

Please do not approve Broadband Over Power Line, I have seen the arrl tests and we do not need all the data noise on our hf bands. I have enough problems with cable channels on the VHF bands leaking out. And other local neighbors data leaking RF signals from their LANS. If the CATV and current makers of LAN's can not stop their interference why add another source.